Part I - Access to Information Act

Preface

The Access to Information Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, Chapter A-1, 1985) was proclaimed on July 1, 1983.

Section 2 of the Access to Information Act gives Canadian citizens and permanent residents a broad right of access to information contained in government records, subject to certain specific and limited exceptions.

According to Section 72 of the Access to Information Act, the head of every government institution shall prepare for submission to Parliament, an annual report on the administration of the Act within the institution during each financial year.

This annual report describes how the Canadian Tourism Commission administered its responsibilities under the Access to Information Act from April 1, 2013 to March 31, 2014.

Corporate Profile

Our role

The Canadian Tourism Commission (CTC) is a federal Crown corporation wholly owned by the Government of Canada. We are accountable to Canada's Parliament through the Minister of Industry. Through collaboration and partnerships with the private sector, as well as with the governments of Canada, the provinces and territories, the CTC works with the tourism sector to maintain its competitiveness and reposition Canada as a destination where travellers can create extra-ordinary personal experiences.

Our legislated mandate

- To sustain a vibrant and profitable tourism industry
- To market Canada as a desirable tourism destination
- To support a cooperative relationship between the private sector and the governments of Canada, the provinces and the territories with respect to Canadian tourism
- To provide information about tourism to the Canadian private sector, the governments of Canada, the provinces and the territories.

Our markets

To achieve our strategic goal of growing tourism export revenues for Canada in markets of highest return and where the Canada tourism brand leads, we are active in the markets that account for more than 61% of all overnight international arrivals to Canada. Our current approach targets international travellers in the Americas (Mexico and Brazil), Europe (the United Kingdom (UK), Germany and France), Asia (China, India, Japan and South Korea) and Australia. We also conduct business events sales activities in the United States (US). Our regional hub structure allows us to be nimble and opportunistic so that we can adjust our marketing programs to reflect changing market conditions and capitalize on new marketing opportunities as they arise.

Our partners

Our partners include provincial and territorial governments, other federal departments and agencies, destination marketing organizations, the Canadian private sector and international travel trade and meeting professionals.

Our values

Act with Integrity

Be Creative and Seek Opportunities to Innovate

Collaborate to Achieve Common Goals

The Organization

Board of Directors

A 12-member Board of Directors oversees the business of the Canadian Tourism Commission. Its role is to provide strategic leadership and stewardship, and approve the allocation of resources. The Chair of the Board and the President and CEO are appointed by the Governor-in-Council. The remaining directors are appointed by the Minister of Industry with the approval of the Governor-in-Council. The CTC Act names the Deputy Minister of Industry as an ex officio director on the Board.

The President and CEO is accountable to the Board of Directors for the management and performance of the organization. The Board is accountable to Parliament through the Minister of Industry. The primary vehicles for reporting to the Crown are the Annual Report and the five-year Corporate Plan and Budgets.

The CTC is headquartered in Vancouver, British Columbia.

Overall Staff

- 106.5 total FTEs.

Further information on the Commission is contained on its business Web site at www.corporate.canada.travel

Administration of the Access to Information Act

Implementation of the Access to Information Act (the Act) at the Canadian Tourism Commission (CTC) is within the division of the Senior Vice-President, Corporate Affairs and Corporate Secretary. The Management Services and Board Liaison Officer is the Coordinator, and is responsible for all of the day-to-day activities related to the administration of the Act.

Delegation of Authority

Pursuant to Section 3 of the Access to Information Act (the Act), the President and CEO is the designated head of the Canadian Tourism Commission. While for the purpose of the Act the head retains authority, all of the day-to-day activities related to the administration of the Act are the responsibility of the Access to Information Coordinator and other officials who have full knowledge of the legislation and jurisprudence, including the Commission's in-house counsel.

Official Vehicles of Communication

Besides formal Access to Information requests, information on the CTC is available to Canadians through its official vehicles of communication as provided below:

Corporate Website: <http://en-corporate.canada.travel/>

The corporate website contains corporate reports and information, research publications, market information, corporate news release, backgrounders and fact sheets, resources and tools to help industry leverage Canada's tourism brand. CTC News is also available on this Web site; subscribers receive regular updates on CTC research and statistics, market programs, tourism issues and industry trends

Business Events Canada: <http://us-meetings.canada.travel/>

This website is set up for business travellers and meeting planners with information on destinations and facilities in Canada.

Media Centre: <http://mediacentre.canada.travel/>

Designed for members of the international media, this website contains resources and blogs for media stories and details of GoMedia Canada Marketplace, our annual media event where Canadian travel organizations tell Canadian and international journalists about Canada.

Our Consumer Website: <http://caen-keepexploring.canada.travel/>

This site is a first stop for travellers to Canada to find out some of the things to do, places to go, events, festivals and travel offers that are available in the country.

Travel-trade Website: <http://canadaexplorerus.canada.travel/>

The travel-trade Website is set up for members of the tourism industry to enhance their knowledge about the country they are selling.

Social media is an important element of CTC's overall marketing strategy. The channels by which CTC interacts with customers include Facebook, Twitter, Youtube and Flickr.

Info Source

Additional information on the CTC may be found in Info Source, a source of federal government and employee information. Info Source is published on the CTC corporate website and can be accessed through this link:

Education and Training

The CTC staff did not receive any training on ATIP from April 1, 2013 to March 31, 2014. The last sessions were held on March 15, 2012, when the CTC provided three all-staff formal training sessions at its headquarters in Vancouver. A total of 61 staff members participated both in person and via WebEx from our international markets.

New Access to Information Related Policies and Procedures

No new Access to Information related policies or procedures were established.

Summary of Key Activities

During the period under review, the CTC received two (2) requests under the Access to Information Act – up one (1) from the previous reporting period.

I. Exemptions Invoked

As noted in the statistical report (attached), exemptions pursuant to sections 16.1(1)(b), 19(1) and 21(1)(a) were invoked in respect to one request. There were no records available for the other request.

II. Completion Time and Extensions

One request was completed within sixty (60) days. A thirty (30) day extension was taken pursuant to paragraph 9(1)(a) of the Act in order to consult with other government departments.

The other request was completed within ninety (90) days. An extension for sixty (60) days was taken pursuant to paragraph 9(1)(a) and 9(1)(b) of the Act as there were a large number of records to process and to undertake consultations with third parties.

The Commission does not monitor the time to process access to information requests because a very small number of requests are made each year.

III. Fees

Application fees for two (2) requests were collected during the reporting period, totaling $10.

IV. Costs

Total costs associated with Access to Information Act activities for the period under review are estimated at $ 1,729. In terms of staff resources, one full-time employee is dedicated, on a part-time basis, to the access to information activities.

Complaints

Applicants have the right of complaint pursuant to the Act and may exercise this right at any time during the processing of their request. There were no complaints during this reporting period.

Other Business

In this reporting period, the CTC responded to 10 consultations from other government institutions and organizations.

Part II - Privacy Act

Preface

The Privacy Act (Revised Statutes of Canada, Chapter A-1, 1985) was proclaimed on July 1, 1983.

The purpose of the Privacy Act is “to extend the present laws of Canada that protect the privacy of individuals with respect to personal information about themselves held by a government institution and to provide individuals with a right of access to that information” (Section 2 of the Act). The law also protects an individual's privacy by preventing others from having access to that personal information and allows an individual specific rights concerning the collection and use of his/her information.

Section 72 of the Privacy Act requires that the head of every government institution prepare for submission to Parliament an annual report on the administration of this Act within the institution during each financial year.

This annual report describes how the Canadian Tourism Commission administered its responsibilities under the Privacy Act from April 1, 2013 to March 31, 2014.

While for the purpose of the Act the head retains authority, all of the day-to-day activities related to the administration of the Act are the responsibility of the Access to Information and Privacy Coordinator and other officials who have full knowledge of the legislation and jurisprudence, including the Commission's in-house counsel.

Privacy Impact Assessment Policy (PIA)

One Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) was completed during this reporting period. Following an independent assessment of its systems, and an evaluation of enterprise options available in the marketplace, the CTC decided to adopt a "Software as a Service" model for the renewal of its information management infrastructure. Software as a Service is a software delivery model in which software and associated data are centrally hosted on an external vendor's servers, an approach to systems management more commonly referred to as "cloud computing". Applications migrated to the cloud were limited to CTC's Financial, Procurement, and Customer Relationship Management (CRM) functions. In recognition of the potential security and privacy challenges surrounding cloud computing, a PIA was conducted so as to inform the initiative's policy and technical implementation. The PIA also served to proactively manage and mitigate potential risks to personal information under the Commission's control. The PIA was initiated in the early phases of project planning.

A summary for the PIA can be found on our corporate website under this link:
